The Lord opened her heart to listen eagerly to what was said by Paul. <sup>15</sup>When she and her household were baptized, she urged us, saying, 'If you have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come and stay at my home.' Church: building where the monks participated in the divine offices.

Scriptorium: the room where the monks read, studied and illustrated sacred manuscripts.

Hostelry: the building where the monks offered accommodation to pilgrims.

Chapter house: the building where the daily meetings of the community took place, presided over by the abbot.

Cloister: A square open courtyard surrounded by covered galleries with open arcades on the inner side. From Latin "claustrum" which means "closed". It was where the monks walked, meditated, talked to each other.

Refectory: the dining room where the monks ate together at large tables. They ate in silence while a monk read from texts from the Bible aloud.

The Neglected Story of the Triumph of Modernity

For to one is given;

1. the word of wisdom,
2. to another the word of knowledge,
3. to another faith,
4. to another prophecy,
5. To another the gift of healings (i Cor. 12:8)

and so on. Each of these the recipient has from the Holy Spirit not so much for himself as for others. Therefore in the community life the activity of the Holy Spirit of God in one passes over to all alike (is brought forth in common).
